

WELCOME TO
ST. THOMAS
EARLY LEARNING CENTER

January 28, 2011

Beginners' Teacher, Paula Casares, delights in seeing a bowl of carrots freshly picked from the children's garden.

A barrel of fun! Don't forget to dress your child warmly for cold winter days and label all coats with their name.

Three-year-olds observe their carrots which are now ready to make Stone Soup for morning snack. YUM!

Eli shows me his carrot that he just picked from his garden behind Mrs. Sagong's classroom.

Look closely...Mrs. Skow spotted this owl perched outside her office window. St. Thomas is filled with wonderful surprises!

Kindergarteners study birds and go on Bird-Watching Nature Walks in January.

First Graders and Friday Afternoon Kindergarteners created this "Starry Night" Mural inspired by Vincent Van Gogh. Look for it outside the Oxley Building.
